PENNANT WINS FUTURITY

HARRY PAYNE WHITNEY'S COLORS VICTORIOUS IN RICHEST STAKE OF THE YEAR.

Southern Maid Finishes a Creditable Second After Meeting with Bad Racing Luck, and Addie M. Is Third—Laurel Meeting Formally Sanctioned.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 30.—The Futurity, for two-year-olds, the richest stake event of the year in America, was run here this afternoon and Harry Payne Whitney furnished the winner in Pennant, while R. H. Davison received second money with his filly Southern Maid. The latter ran an especially good race, but Pennant and Southern Maid broke slowly when the start was made, and Pennant ran sluggish in the early part of the racing. Britain burst bad rushed to the front right after the start and remained in the lead to the head of the stretch. Then Pennant, which had begun to move up after passing the far turn, was able to get up with the leaders and, at the furlong post, showed in front. He retained his advantage to the finish, but he was under the hardest kind of a drive to maintain his position and get home the winner by a length. Southern Maid not only broke slowly, but was bottlenecked by Addie M. for a quarter-mile in the stretch to take second money. Had she enjoyed any kind of luck in the early part of the race, she might have made things very interesting for Pennant at the end and perhaps would have reversed the outcome.

The race had a net value of $15,000 to the winner, while $2,023.32 went to the second and $1,063.67 to the third. The estate of the late James R. Keeve, who nominated the winner, received $1,000. John Madden secured $500 for nominating Southern Maid and E. F. Clay $200 for nominating Addie M.

The Saratoga Cup at a mile and three-quarters was only an exercise gallop for Sam Jackson.

The history of this race since the resumption of racing in 1901, after a lapse of several years, is as follows:

Year	Winner	A. Wt.	Jockey	Val.	Time
1901	Bines	5	113 Shaw	$3,350	2:57½

At a meeting of the stewards of the Jockey Club, held this afternoon there were present Messrs. August Belmont, H. K. Knapp, F. R. Hitchcock, Andrew Miller and S. L. Parsons, the chairman. August Belmont presided, and it was decided that the application of the Maryland State Fair for a license to race from October 1 to 31, 1913, under the rules of the Jockey Club, be granted, provided the Maryland State Fair furnish the Jockey Club a satisfactory guarantee that it will pay to the horsemen such claims as the Jockey Club shall consider entitled to under the conditions of races held by that association during the racing year of 1912. The appointment of the following officials for the Laurel meeting was approved: M. J. Wint, steward representing the Maryland State Fair; J. A. Murphy and P. A. Brady, judges; Fred Dallam, clerk of the scales; James Milton, starter; W. S. Vosburgh, handicapper; Carter Hall and William Schaub, patrol judges; E. C. Smith was appointed steward to represent the Jockey Club during the meeting.

GETTING READY AT LEXINGTON.

Horses at Kentucky Course Well Advanced in Training—Improvements Practically Completed.

Lexington, Ky., August 30.—The horses that have been resting at the Kentucky Association grounds since the close of the spring period of racing at Latonia are in splendidly condition, and it is the opinion of trainers and work-watchers that they will give a good account of themselves in the contests with the horses that have been busy at Saratoga, in Canada and at other points during the forthcoming local meeting, which is to open September 11, for nine days.

The trainers began sending their charges along this week, and the order was three-quarters in about 1:10 and miles in about 1:13 over a track with a good cushion. In the opinion of the work-watchers the "regular" horses, those that summered here, the World's Wonder, The Duke, Flying Tom, The Grader, Rose of Jeddah, etc., have been working to a certa, gipsy Love, Merrick, Morris, Star of Danube, Silver Bill, Dauntless Mint, Mac, U. Steppa, Ethelba, Miss Thorpe and Praetorian, the latter appearing as if he is going to come back for the second time.

Every day this week has been marked by the arrival of a few horses from Canada, Latonia and Mineral Springs, but with the close of the season at Saratoga next Monday they will begin to pour in until every stall in the grounds will have been occupied. One of the officials a month ago had an idea that the demand for stalls would be as great as it is. Racing Secretary Will Shelley and Track Superintendent James P. Ross say that it is as heavy as it ever was last spring.

The improvements will have been completed several days before the opening. The addition to the grandstand will be finished by next Wednesday and will have been painted by that time. All other painting has been done. The new paddock is repainted in white and green. A force of white washers who put in work in the houses Tuesday, has been recalled to continue the painting of the remaining combinations here this fall, as was at one time intended. After taking it over, the officials concluded that it would be better to wait until next spring. Though the combinations have been a feature of the betting at Louisville and Latonia, they are practically unknown to the patrons of the Lexington track who have not been accustomed to attending the races at Churchill Downs, Douglas Park and Latonia.

REVIVING AN OLD RACE.

Louisville Cup, to Be Fall Feature at Douglas Park Hereafter, Dates Back to 1875.

ILLUSTRATES IMPROVEMENT IN HORSES.

Interesting Comparison of Time Made by First and Last Winners of Four-Mile Races at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., August 30.—While racing in Kentucky does not date as far back as the state in Virginia, Maryland and the Carolinas still regular racing has been conducted in this state since the decade following the Revolutionary War in the eighteenth century. The oldest race course in Kentucky, as is well known, is the Kentucky Association track at Lexington, that association having been founded as early as 1828.

In this day, the Wagner-Gray Eagle match, in the thirties of the last century, is regarded as the dawn of racing in this, Jefferson county. What racing had been going on in this vicinity previous to the contest between the two great horses was of a local character.

As the first record of great importance at Louisville was at the distance of four miles, it is fitting that the greatest race of the American turf of today, also now annually run at Louisville, should be at the same distance as was the great race contested so bitterly between the chestnut horse Wagner, from Louisiana, and the gray horse Gray Eagle, bred, foaled and raised in Kentucky.

This greatest of present day races is the $15,000 Keeney Endurance Stakes, to be run on the opening day of the coming fall meeting at Churchill Downs on Wednesday, October 8.

When what was then the New Louisville Jockey Club was formed in 1874, in the spring and autumn of 1875, over the present Churchill Downs track, a four-mile race was one of the feature events of the Louisville racing season of that year.

In the spring of that year the longest race was three miles and was won by Big Fellow, ridden by Wm. Walker, with Monmouth second and Excel, ridden by R. Swin, third, while that great mare, Arizona, and Oxmore ran unplaced.

The Louisville Cup of 1876 had only two starters, the famous Ten Broeck and that good son of War Horse, Holloway, the W. Walker rode. The Broeck and that great horse won the race in 4:00½.

In 1877 this event was won by J. W. Hunt Reynolds' Whisper, then a seven-year-old, ridden by W. Lakeland, H. P. Metrical's Chesapeake finished second and Clemmie G. was third. Lexingtonian, Joe Rodes, Verdigris, Necy Hale and Henry Owins were the other starters in the race that season. Whisper set the time record at 3:50½.

In 1878, Mahistick, owned by D. Swigert and ridden by W. Walker, won the Louisville Cup, defeating the winner of the previous season, Whisper, Chesapeake and that good horse, St. Martin. The track was heavy that day and Mahistick's time was 3:47½. Mahistick was really a colt, three-year-old and among the best of the get of Lever, that noted son of the famous Lexington. He died before his four-year-old racing season was over.

The Louisville Cup in 1878 was again won by J. W. Hunt Reynolds' stable, his great filly Fortunia, then a four-year-old, ridden by Isaac Murphy, proving the winner. Janet, the famous daughter of Lightning, finished second and the Texas-owned horse, Incommoder, third. The unplaced horses that season were the noted Glenmore, Waterwitch, King Fisher, the great Long Tom, Captain, and Belle of Nelson, the first Kentucky Oaks winner, Fortuna.

In 1880 the track was exceedingly heavy on Louisville Cup day, but this did not keep the noted four-year-old, Volumina, owned by the Illinois racing firm of S. Powers & Son, from winning in handily over the famous Jockey, James McLaughlin, in the saddle.

In 1881, the famous Postboy, owned by M. Young and Mendelsohn, which the year previous, at Lexington, had set the mile and quarter record at 2:08. When it came to going, however, two miles and a quarter, the son of Buckden was no match for Postboy and as a result of son of Bonnie Scott won the Louisville Cup that season as his rider.

What will always be regarded as one of the greatest races ever run off in America, was the Louisville Cup of 1882, when the mighty Hindoo, carrying 11 pounds, and ridden by James McLaughlin, was beaten by the famous Postboy, two miles and the noted gelding, Checkmate, contested the race with him that the outcome was in doubt. Isaac Murphy was on Checkmate and gave him a perfect ride, but Hindoo proved the gelding's master over the cup course. The other starters in this race were the Blazes, Glendale and Lida Stanhope, all of note. The time is the record for the Louisville Cup of olden days, 3:57½.

In 1883, Lida Stanhope, beaten in this race in 1882, paired with Postboy, owned by M. Young and Mendelsohn, which the year previous, at Lexington, had set the mile and quarter record at 2:08. When it came to going, however, two miles and a quarter, the son of Buckden was no match for Postboy and as a result of son of Bonnie Scott won the Louisville Cup that season as his rider.

There were only two starters in this race in 1883, paired with Postboy, owned by M. Young and Mendelsohn, which the year previous, at Lexington, had set the mile and quarter record at 2:08. When it came to going, however, two miles and a quarter, the son of Buckden was no match for Postboy and as a result of son of Bonnie Scott won the Louisville Cup that season as his rider.

There was little difference in the Churchill Downs track in Stampede's day and in Sotenia's time, save that the finishing line was formerly on the backstretch, as the course is laid out at this time, almost opposite from the point where the horses cross the winning line at this famous course now.

Few of the old-timers who saw Stampede win the first four-mile race at Churchill Downs are still alive, but these few are likely to be on hand on October 8 next, when the third renewal of the Kentucky Endurance Stakes will take place over this track. These veterans of the track never miss a four-mile race and the comparisons they make between the long-distance cracks of today and the stars of years gone by are edifying to their younger listeners.

Though Sotenia's record is more than twenty-two seconds better than the four miles scored by Stampede in 1875, good judges seem to think that the son of Sun Dance will be still further behind with his 7:33 after the big race is run off this fall, with such three-year-olds as Ten Point, Donerail, Gowdy, Blue Bird, and such older horses of great merit as Prentiss, Lure, Belvoir, Milton B., Flora Flora, Light o' Life, Swannanoa and Prince Eugene among the prospective contestants. It is the general expectation that, with favorable track and weather conditions, the record will be further reduced.

Manager M. J. Wilm, of the Churchill Downs track, who has just returned from a flying trip to the east, says he never saw so much interest in a race as is manifested everywhere this fall by turners in the coming running of the Endurance Stakes. He is preparing for a record-breaking crowd on October 8 at the Downs, and the many workmen employed there now are getting ready for the big race.

Manger H. H. Hauck, of the Louisville track, who has just returned from a flying trip to the west, says he never saw so much interest in a race as is manifested everywhere this fall by turners in the coming running of the Endurance Stakes.

He is preparing for a record-breaking crowd on October 8 at the Downs, and the many workmen employed there now are getting ready for the big race.

LAUREL'S REVISED STAKE LIST.

The attention of horsemen is called to the announcement by the new management of the Laurel track on page 6 of this issue of Daily Racing Form relative to the stakes to be run during the meeting to be conducted at Laurel during the month of October under Jockey Club auspices. The conditions as announced by the former management have been revised so that all the entrances and starting fees will revert to the winner instead of to the association. The deal by which the control of the track has passed to a New York syndicate of which James Butler is the head, and by which John J. Winn well and favorably known to horsemen throughout the country over as a capable and progressive manager of racing enterprises is to assume the management of the track, assures a high-class meeting in every particular. The stakes will close tomorrow, so it behoves horsemen who are interested, to act without delay. Entries for the stakes may be forwarded to Manager Winn at Saratoga, or to Fredrick Dahlman, the secretary of the association, at Laurel. The meeting will be conducted with bookmaking as an adjunct, as hitherto.

Winner—B. c. by Star Shoot—Konjiny Belle H. (trained by J. Walters). Went to post at 3:02. At post 2 minutes. Started good and slow. Won driving; second and third driving. RIFLE BRIGADE fenced cleanly and, after being a forward contender from the start, dashed to the front when going to the ninth fence and drew out into a big lead, but had to be hard ridden at the end to outstay NOBLE. The latter finished gamely and wearing the lead down. LUCKOLA fenced well and hung on gamely to the end. CLAN ALPINE only went fairly well. MOLTKE and HALF A CROWN lost their riders at the first jump. Overweights—Delicious, 7 pounds.

ZODIAC, from a slow beginning, was outrun to the stretch turn, from where he moved up rapidly on the outside and, having disposed of his opposition in the last eighth, won easily up. GRAZELLE set the early pace, but was soon used in racing with NANCY ORME and was tired at the end. LOUise TRAVERS finished with a rush after working her way up on the outside. REQUIEM showed speed, but quit. The winner, entered for $900, was bid up to $1,200 and sold to S. Louis. Overweights—Tigella, 3 pounds; Free Trade, 11; Shug, 1.

WINNER—Ch. g. by Star Shoot—Lady Vincent (trained by J. Hecker).
